Topics of the guideline	The book contains a checklist-like compendium of accessibility measures which allow to check whether a construction is accessible or not
Description of the guideline	A number of publications containing architectural design criteria for accessibility exist. However, these criteria are not uniform; they vary in standards and may give rise to some degree of confusion. This book is intended to aid in the design of all aspects of building and site development. This publication has been designed to incorporate the standards that will be adopted by the National Commission Persons with Disability (KNPD) of Malta in executing its responsibilities under the Maltese Equal Opportunities (Persons with Disability) Act, 2000. It includes graphical illustration of the standards contained in the text, for further ease of reference.
